

To whom it may concern

We are delighted with the professional partnership and solutions provided by DMSA. We've travelled a long journey with DMSA, and they've been fully engaged in understanding our most critical business drivers and the organisational climate insights required to support and drive effective growth and change.

More recently, we've simplified our organisational climate survey process and have trusted DMSA to partner more directly with our business units, and their team has provided a technically competent, enthusiastic, professional, 'easy to work with' service.

DMSA have consistently delivered high quality service and solutions, and I have no hesitation in recommending them.

Kind regards
